

Pam Sprague is a Senior Associate in the Dallas office of Chartwell Partners. Prior to joining Chartwell Partners, Pam served as Director of Search Services for Davies Park Executive Search in Edmonton, Alberta, Canada. Pam's executive search work has been broad in scope having recruited senior executives to the higher education, oil and gas, not-for-profit, municipal, manufacturing, and healthcare sectors. Upon joining Chartwell Partners, Pam's primary areas of focus have included healthcare and financial services.

Pam began her career in sports marketing progressing through the Chicago Bulls organization and serving as the team's first Director of Community Services. Upon leaving the Bulls, she had the unique experience of working for Michael Jordan. She opened the Chicago office for JUMP, Inc., coordinated Jordan's Chicago-based public relations and helped to create The Michael Jordan Foundation.

Originally from Cleveland, Ohio, Pam holds a Bachelor's Degree from the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor.