

Suzanne Watson is a Senior Associate with Chartwell Partners and has worked in the executive search industry for the past nineteen years. Prior to joining Chartwell Partners in 2004 as Senior Associate, she spent nearly three years as a Senior Associate in the Dallas office of Heidrick & Struggles.

Her first five years in the industry were spent progressing through various roles as Researcher, Research Director, and Search Associate for Schuyler, Frye & Baker and Emerging Search, both boutique firms in Atlanta, Georgia. She began her career with Nationwide Insurance.

Suzanne's experience spans multiple industries including technology, financial services, higher education, healthcare, and professional services. While at Heidrick & Struggles, Suzanne's areas of specialization included insurance, healthcare, financial services, and technology, with particular emphasis on general management, chief marketing officers, and corporate financial officers. For the past ten years with Chartwell, her focus has been in the healthcare space, specifically healthcare services and managed care.
