

Deborah Rocha has over 20 years of executive search experience; most noteworthy, is her search experience for both C-level as well as emerging leaders and specialized talent in the areas of management consulting, technology, healthcare and compliance.

Deborah has deep experience conducting search within the consulting space, particularly at the partner-level within financial advisory and management consulting. Her search expertise spans risk, regulatory, performance improvement, technology-based solutions, restructuring and disputes & forensics across the energy, healthcare, construction and financial services industries. Having led recruitment internally and externally, Ms. Rocha has broad search experience across all functions, including human resources, compliance and legal, marketing and communications, information technology, graphic, software and hardware design.

She recently led the global recruitment function at Navigant, a global, publicly traded management consulting & dispute advisory firm with expertise in the Financial Services, Healthcare & Energy sectors where she and her team recruited several hundred corporate and managing director level leaders over a five-year period. Prior to Navigant, Ms. Rocha's experience includes executive search within DHR International, Dell, KPMG and Boyden Global Search.

Deborah earned her Bachelor's degree from the University of Wisconsin-Parkside.