

Prior to the merger of Chartwell Partners and Cavoure Advisors, Trisha Hutchison was a Cavoure for five years, and brings 20 years of experience in retained executive search. She leads searches across a broad spectrum of industries including branded and private-label packaged goods, durable consumer products, organic and natural products, personal care products and direct and interactive marketing.

Trisha's primary clients have included large, multi-billion dollar corporations, as well as start-up and fast growth companies, and she has a particular interest in working with companies that focus on providing sustainable and socially responsible products. She also has depth of experience in the recruitment of executives to family-owned businesses, as well as founder-influenced and private equity backed companies.

Prior to joining Cavoure, Trisha spent 13 years with Boyden Global Executive Search and was a member of the consumer products practice. Trisha began her career in executive search with Heidrick & Struggles where she was an associate in the firm's industrial practice.

Trisha received a BA in communications from The Ohio State University.
