

Sean O'Neal is a Principal with Chartwell Partners based in the firm's Dallas office. Sean brings nearly a decade of experience in Executive Search, following a career foundation and education in Finance. Sean is as a member of Chartwell's Financial Services practice focused on senior-level assignments including Board, CEO, and cross-functional Senior Leadership Teams across banking, real estate, and the broader financial services ecosystem. His clients have ranged from Fortune 500 to entrepreneurial start-ups in publicly-traded, private equity backed, and privately held firms across North America and internationally.

Prior to Chartwell Partners, Sean was with Heidrick & Struggles in progressive roles across multiple industry and functional verticals. Prior to his work in executive search, Sean worked as an Accountant and Auditor in public accounting. He graduated from the University of Mississippi (Ole Miss) with both Bachelor's and Master's degrees in Accounting.